Volunteers raise £2,000 for CornerHouse charity

COMMUNITY SPIRIT – Kaitlin Gray, the Woking Rotaract president, presents a cheque for £2,000 to Dan Curtis, CornerHouse chief executive, accompanied by Hannah Hande-Clarke and Ben Porter

VOLUNTEERS have worked tirelessly for months to support a Woking charity that offers emotional and wellbeing support.

Nine members of Woking Rotaract, a youth organisation, held collections outside supermarkets in snow and ice, helped marshal at local events and organised a well-attended race night at Mayford Village Hall, all of which has resulted in £2,000 being donated to the CornerHouse charity.

Dan Curtis, CornerHouse chief executive, said: "The race night event was excellent, and we're really pleased and grateful for the donation from Rotaract. We've just heard about some funding cuts so this will really help to maintain services and keep our clients' mental health and wellbeing at the forefront of our focus."

Rotaract chose this charity because some members have been directly affected by mental health issues, and they have had family and friends who have been CornerHouse clients.

Rotaract president Kaitlin Gray said: "Organising the race night was a lot of work. It took several months of planning but it thoroughly paid off as we managed to produce our highest total yet from a single event."

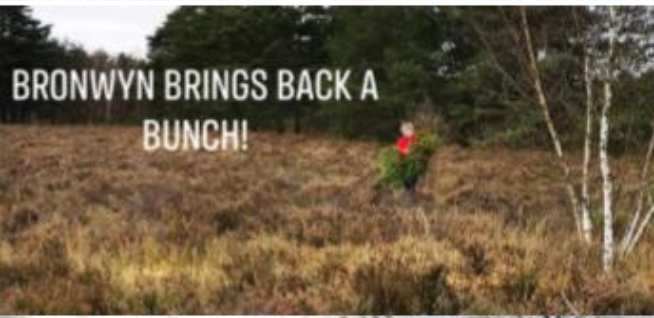

"We were pleased to raise funds throughout the year to give a chunky donation to CornerHouse. They are a wonderful local charity who are doing such vital work, and we hope this donation will help them to keep their services up and running and introduce new avenues to explore."

The bulk of the donation was raised by the race night, which was run in conjunction with the Rotary Club of Woking, with profits split between the two groups.

Woking Rotaract is for people aged 18-30. It offers a wide range of activities, and provides a chance to meet new people and make a difference in the local community. It is the Rotary Club's youth service partner.
